

High Street Securities, Inc.

Privacy Policy

High Street Securities, Inc. Privacy Policy

At High Street Securities, Inc. (High Street), we are committed to protecting your privacy and the confidentiality of your personal and financial information. The measures we take to keep your personal information private and secure are listed below.

How We Protect Confidentiality

High Street uses procedural, physical and electronic systems to store and secure information about you in compliance with federal standards. Our systems protect your information from unauthorized access, alteration, or destruction. Access is permitted to only those individuals within our organization who need the information to perform their job responsibilities.

When we enter into agreements with other companies to provide services to us or to make products and services available to you, we include a confidentiality clause. Under such an agreement, these companies may receive information about you, but they may only use it for the intended purpose – to benefit you.

Under the FACT Act, the only accounts of High Street that are at risk of identity theft and fall under the definition of a covered account are margin accounts introduced to our clearing company. The authentication of the account holder's identity is verified during the account opening process.

High Street will watch for suspicious activities that are identified as Red Flags in the Act. These activities include, but are limited to, change of address instructions and change of locations instructions for monies being wired and checks mailed.

To monitor and supervise the possibility of customer's identities being stolen, High Street will monitor any change of address requests and change of address for monies being sent to customers. These requests will be verified by phone with the customer unless the request is received in writing. Wires and check requests are sent only to the address of record unless written and signed instructions to the contrary are provided by the customer.

In the event that credit reports are obtained for customers in securities, any address discrepancies will be rectified to High Street's satisfaction before an account is opened.

Persons Covered by the Privacy Policy

The High Street Privacy Policy applies to anyone who is a current member or former High Street brokerage client or who registers with one of our services or promotional offers. We provide you with a copy of this policy when you open an account, and we send you annual notifications thereafter. If we change our policy regarding the sharing of information, we will notify you in advance and give you the opportunity to "opt out" of such disclosure.

How We Obtain Your Information About You

In the normal course of business, we collect, retain and use information about you to serve your financial needs, administer your account(s) and inform you of products and services that may be of interest. This data, known as non-public personal information, may be collected from several sources, including: applications and other forms you file with us (e.g. name, assets, income), records of transactions with us, our affiliates, non-affiliated third parties and others (e.g. credit card report). Because we strive to provide you with the best possible service, the accuracy and completeness of your personal information is important to us. We ask that you review your information regularly to ensure that it is correct. Please contact your account representative or High Street directly if you need to correct or update your personal information.

High Street Securities, Inc.

Privacy Policy

Sharing Your Information- With Whom and Why

High Street does not sell your personal information to anyone. We restrict the types of information we share and the types of entities with whom we share it. The primary reason for sharing information about you is to increase your convenience in transacting business with us and to give you more financial service choices.

We do not disclose your personal information to non-affiliated third parties, unless one of the following exceptions applies:

We disclose personal information to service providers that assist us in processing your transactions or servicing your account(s). An example would be the company that prints and mails your account statement. We may also disclose personal information to third party service providers in an effort to improve and better market the products and services we offer.

We disclose or report personal information in limited circumstances when we believe in good faith that disclosure is required or permitted under law. For example, we would provide information in cooperation with security regulators or law enforcement authorities, to resolve consumer disputes, or to perform credit evaluations and authenticate checks.

Internet Security

We do not retrieve account or personal information from visitors who browse the public (pre-logout) areas of our Web sites. Clients who have the ability to access their accounts online are required to log on with their username and individually selected password. Your password is known solely to you, your client, and should never be shared with anyone. You may change your password as often as you wish.

When you access your account online, it is through Secure Socket Layer-encrypted session between your browser and our servers. To ensure the highest level of security, we have installed VeriSign Global Server IDs on each server. We will continue to enhance security procedures as new technologies become available. Each time you access your account, please don't forget to log off when you are finished. This will prevent someone else from accessing your account if you leave your computer and your session hasn't automatically shut down.

High Street employees use information about you to respond to your needs and to provide you with information about specific products in which you may have an interest. We instruct our employees to use strict standards of care in handling the personal, confidential information of customers and remind them on a regular basis of their obligations with regard to the confidentiality of customer information.

High Street registered representatives and staff are required to maintain the personal security of any information stored on any computer used to store, retrieve or access customer information. High Street personnel may only store, retrieve or access customer information through computers that are equipped with current definition anti-virus software. High Street personnel are also required to report any computer virus, malicious software attacks or attempts by a hacker to the Home Office and take immediate steps to halt any such unauthorized access to any computer used to store, retrieve or access customer information.

Option to Opt Out and Change Notices

If for any reason at any time in the future, we find it necessary to disclose any of your personal information in a way that is inconsistent to this policy, we will give you advance notice of the proposed change and the opportunity to opt out of such disclosure.

High Street Securities, Inc.

Privacy Policy

For your reference, this policy has been posted to our Web site at www.HighStreetSecurities.com. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us via email at info@HighStreetSecurities.com.

High Street Securities, Inc.
216 North El Paso, Suite B
Russellville, Arkansas 72801
(479) 968-1708 or (800) 756-0920
Fax (479) 967-9898
info@highstreetsecurities.com
www.High Street.com
Member: FINRA, MSRB and SIPC